

"Last summer, I had the idea that sorting the screws and fixings was relaxing and perhaps good therapy. I was put in touch with Graham Stephens, coordinator of Woodwork to Wellness in Saltney, and completed a successful pilot with their autistic members.

partnership to have their users sort the smaller fixings, bag them up and offer them for sale at low cost via an online shop. These fixings will also be used to make Autism Together and Woodwork to Wellness garden furniture and other wooden items.
